

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

CLAUDE HUCKLEY.

GEO. A. LEWIS.

Buckley & Lewis,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

TERMS.

The WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT is published every Saturday, at one dollar per annum, invariably in advance.

Six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents. Money may be sent by post-office money order, or registered letter at our risk.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 8, 1879.

If your ROUNDABOUT is marked on the first page with a red X it indicates that your subscription has expired and must be renewed before you receive another paper.

A few days after Jason Little was placed in the penitentiary, a couple of Frankfort ladies visited that institution and expressed a desire to see the Breathitt county wife murderer. Mr. Hookersmith told them that he was confined there without some necessary papers which should have been presented at the time of his incarceration, and they had put him in the dining room to do light work until the arrival of said papers, when he would be put to work in the hemp house. He then accompanied them to the prison dining room and pointed out a man that has been confined in the penitentiary over five years. The ladies looked the poor fellow out of countenance, and left, believing they had seen the coldest blooded murderer of modern days. They give graphic descriptions of Little to their friends, and have never yet seen him. Naughty Hookersmith.

Personal.

Wm. Mc... ..

Miss Annie Steele, Louisville, is at Capital Hotel.

Miss Susie Mayhall is visiting her sister in Elizabethtown.

Col. Ben. Selby, of Eminence, was in the city the first of the week.

Miss Addie Lawler returned yesterday from a visit to relatives in Louisville.

Miss Sallie Sanders went to Louisville Wednesday and returned yesterday.

Mrs. Chas. Davis, who has been very ill for the past three weeks, is convalescent.

Mrs. A. Harris went to the Falls City Wednesday for a week's visit to relatives.

Mrs. Mary J. Lewis left Wednesday for a two months' visit to relatives in Louisville.

Will. Runyan spent a couple of days in the country with his sweetheart this week.
